

Overview of LAN-TEL Communications, Inc.

LAN-TEL Communications, Inc. ("LAN-TEL") was founded in 1991 as a structured cabling company, and since that time has grown to a diversified corporation that offers a wide array of voice, data, video, and security services and solutions. With a team of more than 80 employees, it is currently known as one of the premier cabling and technology companies in New England. Key factors that have led to LAN-TEL's success thus far are:

- Our ability to provide innovative solutions to the complex technology challenges facing our customers
- World-class customer service from project inception to completion and beyond
- A highly-skilled team of technical staff, project managers, technicians, and operations personnel who like what they do and are committed to providing technology solutions of the highest quality within the timeframe and budget our customers require
- Sensitivity to the individual needs and requirements of the wide variety of clients we serve; financial institutions, schools, hospitals, public venues, and law firms to name a few
